

T21 Enters Thailand

July 15, 2006

Finnish innovator Tramigo has launched its latest vehicle tracking device, the Tramigo T21, in the Thai market. As the first plug-and-play vehicle tracking device in the world, the T21 has many unique features, such as its own inbuilt Thailand geographical data. It can be used in any vehicle - cars, boats, motorcycles, in fact, in anything that moves.

T21, which has already sparked great interest throughout Thailand, will be first distributed through mobile handset outlets in Bangkok by the main distributor.

For more information about T21's availability in Bangkok or dealership opportunities in Thailand, please e-mail info@trfinn.com or log on to www.tramigo.net.
